STOCK MARKET LETHARGIC

AWAITING STEEL DIVIDEND. ANNOUNCEMENT COMES TOO

LATE FOR EFFECT. Early Movement Downward, but

Rally in Preferred Helps Other Issues Slightly.

New York, Oct. 5.-To-day's stock maret lay practically in a lethargy pending he action of the United States Steel frectors on the common-stock dividend. This action had not been decided up to the close of the market, and the repressive influence of the suspense, accordingly, was not removed. Dealings were the smallest a large proportion of the whole was abtien which were the only stocks in which was made the occasion for speculative urice movements to any extent. This is argely due to the fact that the financial world has been in great doubt over what world has been in great doubt over what the effect would be of the dividend action. Whether the massing or reduction of the dividend could result to any further fab in the price of the company's securities has been much questioned. The conservation of a surplus, it is now believed, would have held the market price of the securifies better than the distribution of dividends on the common stock, which has proved utterly unavailing to hold the market.

ADVANCE IN PREFERRED. The sharp advance in the preferred stock this afternoon of more than 2 points, while the common stock was but slightly affected, was due to the party that was in doubt over the declaration of the dividend, and which believed that the At London, steady at flijd per oz. This was trade prospects, this was the the additional recurity for the preferred, by the retention of the surplus in the Treasury, would result in higher prices. Outside of the Steel stocks the market was exceedingly narrow and the movements insignificant. Only a handful of stocks got as much as a point away from histinghi, and extreme movements were not maintained in any place.

The early movement was downward, and London assisted in this tendency to some extent on account of the unsettled opinion in that market, owing to British Cabinet changes. Some selling was reported to be for Western account and may have been associated with the reported to be for Western account and may have been associated with the reports of deterioration in the wheat yield in one or two of the Western States, which also caused a firm tone in the wheat market. The Government's weekly report on corn was considered highly satisfactory, but the report on cotton was felt to leave a good deal to be desired. There was no pressure of liquidation at any point, and the market recovered in sympathy with the late unward movement in United States Steel preferred.

CLOSING STEADY.

CLOSING STEADY. The full recovery was not held, but the closing was steady and showed very slight net changes as a rule. The time-money market seems to be growing softer, and apprehension of any real stringency has been pretty well disappated. The large movement of gold toward London and the cessation of the Berlin demands for gold seem to assure the prespects for that center. The lateness of the crops does not seem fully to account for the long softsponement of the Western demand for currency, and the belief is gaining force that the deposit of Government funds with Western banks has supplied a sufficient proportion of the usual demand to relax the pressure upon osing was steady and showed very as supplied a sufficient proportion of the sual demand to relax the pressure upon few York decidedly.

The market for bonds was very dull nd about steady. Total sales, par value, £41,500. United States 26 declined ½ and the old 48 to par cent on the last call.

ruling feature and sentiment seemed to have been switched to the built side overnight, despite the fact that there were few builtsh indications in the news. The bears were inclined to continue their campaign at the opening on the continuation of favorable news and the large receipts. Overseiling told on the market and there was brisk covering before the end of the first hour. Until the close of the session the buying in-terest was good, with the exception of a short period when an attempt was made to break values on the report of a large increase in the world's available supply. There was an undercurrent of bullishness in the weekly crop reports. While a steady improvement was shown, it was intimated that all danger of damage had not passed. The volume of trading, while not heavy, was fairly large, and the feeling was un-mistakably favorable to the buying side at the close.

There was not a great deal of interest in corn, but the market was strong in line with wheat. Receipts, though larger than last year, show a declining tendency. Foreign prices were stendy and there was a good cash demand. Dec. wheat opened %@%c up and closed 1%c up.

Dec. corn opened %0%c up and closed %6%c up.
